

Climate-KIC business support programmes at ECCI

FAQ

Please read these before contacting us - chances are, we have already answered your question below!

1. What is the relationship between ECCI and Climate-KIC?

ECCI is the leading low carbon innovation and impact hub for Scotland and beyond. We became a Climate-KIC partner early in 2017. This means we get to deliver a range of exciting Climate-KIC business support programmes and projects. We are one of four Climate-KIC UK&I partners, the others are: London, Birmingham and Dublin.

2. I'm interested in your programmes. What do you look for in a business idea?

Great news! ECCI is all about innovation and carbon reduction. We look for feasible and scalable ideas, that are well thought through and which respond to a clear market requirement. You must be able to demonstrate that your product or service will reduce carbon. We look for established ideas and expect applicants to have started a lean business model canvas or business plan, to have considered who their customers/end users are and to have an appropriate team together. There are thematic areas we are particularly interested in, such as data, water, circular economy and finance (check out 'Climate-KIC's Thematic Priority Areas 2018' online). Importantly, we look for entrepreneurs that are driven, dynamic and team players.

5. How much funding would I get in each programme?

We provide grant funding in each programme, however this varies slightly year by year due to our Climate-KIC funding allocation. The grant funding differs for each partner organisation delivering the programmes. Funding is confirmed once you have been awarded a place on the programme and is subject to change until you receive a contract.

6. What could I spend my grant funding on?

In the Greenhouse you can spend the funding on consultancy work, interns, research, travel to conferences, meet with potential customers or membership of an organisation. You are not allowed to spend this funding on salary.

On all of the Accelerator you can spend the funding on consultancy work, interns, research, travel to conferences, meet with potential customers, equipment match funding for awards or memberships of an organisation. You are allowed to spend up to 50% on salary costs (subject to conditions).

For all programmes, your mentor will sign off what you are spending your grant on and you must send all receipts and invoices to ECCI.

7. I'd love to apply. What's the application process like and when does it open?

That's great to hear! We are aiming to open our programmes for application in 2019. By registering your interest, you'll be the first to know.

We like to keep things simple, so our application form will be a straightforward survey on the ECCI website. It should take around 1 – 2 hours to complete. Once you have submitted your application, we will shortlist candidates and invite them to a pitching interview. The interview consists of a 10 minute business pitch, followed by a 15 minute Q+A from a panel of industry experts. All panellists will sign an NDA if required (ECCI provide this – we cannot accept individual NDAs).

8. Can you give me any advice before applying?

We would advise all candidates to take a look at Climate-KIC's thematic priorities for 2018 to make sure your business idea aligns with their interests. It's always helpful to focus on:

- What's innovative about your idea?
- How do you save carbon emissions?
- How do you intend to generate revenue?
- What progress have you made to date?
- Does your team have the right skillset?

9. Am I at the right stage for the Greenhouse programme?

Greenhouse is a pre-incubation programme, which means that it's for very early stage ideas. We won't expect you to have figured everything out yet, but we need a clear idea on what product / technology you are offering. At this stage we would expect you have spoken to a few customers, you may even have a very early stage business model (one paper) and have done some research around your product and competitors. The programme is relatively light touch, so it's ideal for anyone balancing a day job with starting a business.

10. Am I at the right stage for the Accelerator programme?

For the Accelerator programmes, we would expect that you are quite a bit further on than the Greenhouse. For Stage 1 and 2 we look for ideas that are a bit more refined: you have a basic business model that's a work in progress; you have more than one team member; you have done some research on your competitors and your product; you may have a prototype; you have engaged with end users; you are starting to consider IP issues and starting to think about your pricing and product development.

11. Can I apply for all stages in the Accelerator programme?

No. Anyone can apply for Stage 1 and Stage 2. However, all start-ups must go through Stage 2 to be allowed to pitch for a chance on Stage 3 (it is not open to applicants).

12. How many start-ups do you support in each programme? How many start-ups apply?

It depends – we would love to take you all! We get between 25-35 applications per programme – it is highly competitive! We take on approximately (please note this varies every year):

- Greenhouse: 5 start-ups
- Accelerator 1: 8 start-ups
- Accelerator 2: 6 start-ups
- Accelerator 3: 3 start-ups

13. Do I have to register a business to apply for your Climate-KIC programmes?

Short answer is no. You do not need to register a business for Greenhouse or Accelerator Stage 1, but we would expect you to register your business during the Accelerator Stage 1 programme.

You should be a registered business for Accelerator Stage 2 and 3.

14. Are there eligibility criteria for the programmes?

Yes. For Greenhouse you must have a team (more than one person who plays an active role in the business).

For Accelerator programmes your business must be registered in the UK (for Stage 1 do not worry if you haven't registered yet, when you do it will have to be in the UK) and be less than two years old. We prefer teams for the Accelerator programme as your business is more likely to succeed with two or more people actively involved.

15. Can I participate in the Climate-KIC programme as well as other business support programmes?

Yes of course, but we do ask that you commit the time required to the Climate-KIC programme – we issue contracts that outline commitments that must be kept to unlock your full grant funding.

16. Do you offer business support outwith Climate-KIC?

I'm afraid we do not offer advice or support outwith these programmes... as much as we would love to we don't have the time.

Any more questions?

Feel free to get in touch – please note we can't provide advice or support on your business idea if you are not on the programme, but we are more than happy to chat about the programme itself.
